When the world falls apart, when civilization collapses, when life as we know it ends, our greatest terrors become real. Perhaps it's nuclear war with its poisonous radiation, hideous plagues or chemical contamination, rogue artificial intelligences controlling killer robots, or zombies that turn our friends and neighbors into inhuman monsters. What can the common man or woman do in the face of apocalyptic fears? Apocalyptic Fears I and II are collections of bestselling, award-winning or just plain exciting stories by some of the best independent authors of today.

Knights and Demons: Tanshuku by Greg Dragon Surviving the apocalypse means staying clear of monsters. Alysia never dreamed her first years as an adult would be spent fighting demons. However, as the chosen warrior of the Turevila, she must defeat them in order to save the world.

You Will Be Like God by Steve Strobe In 2095, being a parent is complicated but eliminating grandchildren is profitable. Bud Lee believes he has proof that his boss is plotting to decide Earth's fate by recruiting surrogate children into a think tank named The Club.

Ink: Red, by Al K. Line The needle buzzed. The nightmare began. Strapped to a gurney, Edsel watched in horror as they tattooed his entire body bright red. His captors were overconfident; he escaped, only to be chased across the ravaged city.

Numbers Game by Rebecca Rode Treena isn't sure she wants to be Rated anymore. This number will brand her forever. But Rating Day comes and her number is announced-and it shocks everyone.

Swarmers by R. V. Doon A lethal virus with no known cure is awakened in a secret lab and goes airborne. Their world is forever altered, and the stunned survivors must keep fighting for their very existence.

Thrown Away, Parts 1-3 by Glynn James Among the remnants of mankind it is thought that the strangers who live behind the barrier, inside their protected city, may still hold that secret. But no one taken by the hunters from the city ever comes back.

The Flense: China by Saul Tan pepper A fiery train crash in northern China. A sinking off the Libyan coast. Villagers vanish in Ghana. Each event is preceded by the sudden spread of a mysterious ailment and is followed by the appearance of a man dressed in black and silver who witnesses claim is the devil himself.

Zombie Maneuvers by Griffin Carmichael Before the world fell apart, Janet's life was already indistinguishable from Hell. In Connor, she'd thought she found a strong protector, someone who would take care of her. What she got was a brutal man who used and abused her. The Moon Dwellers by David Estes Seventeen-year-old Adele, a member of the middle-class moon dwellers, is unjustly sentenced to life in prison for her parents' crimes of treason. Against all odds, Adele must escape and find her family while being hunted by a deranged killing machine named Rivet. The Protectors by Ryan King It's been twenty years since the Great Plague. In a few months, Teal will turn sixteen and be able to Take the Chit from a Protector as so many have before her. But as Teal seeks to stand for truth, she sets off a chain of events that could destroy them all. Reaper's Run by David VanDyke When US Marine Sergeant Jill Repeth's blown-off legs begin to regenerate, she thinks it's a medical miracle, but the breakthrough that heals her war injuries is exactly what the government desperately wants to quash - by any means necessary.

Customer Reviews

I didn't read all the stories, but that's the beauty of these sets. When they're this cheap and/or offered through KU, you don't feel bad about picking and choosing just the stuff that appeals. So, my opinion from what I read: Numbers Game: Excellent story. It reminded me of a few others I've read, perhaps the Divergent series? but that's OK. This was about a society that assigns numbers based on absolutely everything it's citizens does, but of course any system has to be run by people and people can cheat. It was so good that I downloaded the sequel, and I have so much in my TBR stack that I don't usually do that. 5 stars

Swarmers: Sounded interesting, but it ended up squicking me out so I didn't finish it. Sorry, couldn't rate it. I'd categorize this as a horror story.

Thrown Away: Another one I loved from a new-to-me author. This is about a man who decides to look for a child that was taken by the city's Hunters by turning himself into them. A phenomenal read. I ended up downloading 4 & 5 afterward, but beware, the last book(s?) isn't/aren't available yet. Still worth reading, however, and I'm extremely to have found this author. 5 stars

The Flense: China: Started it but didn't find it all that interesting, so abandoned it a few pages in. No rating

No Kinda Life: A western with a few 'topical' apocalypse references thrown in. It was about a Texas Ranger (yes, really) coming to assist a town in fending off a horde of bad guys by teaching them how to stand up for themselves. The mayor is a stereotypical villain. I swear the theme song from The Good, The Bad, and the Ugly kept running through my head, whistling and all. LOL Much shorter than some of the other stories, this one was just OK for me.
